

Postcards index

E-mail received from Colin Buck:

"In the 1990's I began compiling the Postcard Index. The aim was to buy old postcards that had been postally used and were inexpensive from many different dealers. I then compiled an index of the names and addresses on them. The idea was simple. To pass the cards onto someone who today has an interest in the recipient. Over 10 years I indexed 100,000 cards. I had considerable success reuniting the cards by advertising the index in family history magazines, among them the one name study group. However twenty years ago I went to live in Spain so could not continue with the project.

I have now returned to the UK and still have the postcards. Whilst I am not adding to the index, I am keen to pass on as many cards as I can to interested parties. I have therefore started checking my holdings against the names subject to one name studies. I note that I have a card/s which may be of interest to you. Please find attached details. If you would like any of the cards, please send a stamped addresses envelope and I will forward them to you.

Colin Buck, 40 Lincoln Street, Gainsborough DN21 2LD."
